

Past President:

This is an "automatically assumed" board role, not an elected one, per se. I have interpreted my job as primarily transitional and advisory in nature, particularly to the incoming president and officers of the board. It is part of the Executive Committee of the Board.

I am not clear as to whether this position does or should "expire" as such after the term of the first subsequent President of the Board.